

Fundamental British Values Overview

As an Academy providing a second chance for a meaningful educational experience for pupils who have been permanently excluded from a mainstream school, we believe that the promotion of British Values should be planned for across the curriculum to support pupils for life in modern Britain.

Respect for the Rule of Law

Respect for the rule of law means that everyone in society is treated equally and fairly, and that everyone follows the same rules and laws. This value promotes a sense of order and stability in society and helps to prevent crime and other harmful behaviours. The UK justice system is a large part of this, including laws, police officers and courts.

Individual Liberty

Individual liberty allows people to pursue their own goals and interests, providing they do not harm others. This British Value is based on the idea that people should be free to make their own decisions and choices within the bounds of the law, of course.

Democracy

Democracy is the foundation of the UK's political system. This value is based on the idea that everyone should have an equal say in how their country is run, and that the government should be accountable to the people. All things voting, elections and referendums come in to play here.

Mutual Respect & Tolerance of Different Faiths and Beliefs

Promoting the understanding and acceptance of people from different backgrounds and with different beliefs; helping to create a more inclusive and diverse society.
